RACING AND RIDING OF POOR QUALITY.

A MEETING WHICH IS NOT GIVING SATISFACTION EXTENSIVE CHANGES FOR THE

BETTER NEEDED. At one time the Jockey Club permitted racing at Parkway and at Providence, but so many queer things happened at both places that both were put under a ban. Why the Jockey Club allows racing at Brighton Beach, when it refuses to give its sanction to Parkway and Providence, is not ob-vious on the surface. No more devious and perverse wanderings from the path of rectitude were evident at the little track near the Kings County cycle path or at the chief city of Rhode Island than some of those which have been conspicuous meeting at Brighton Beach. The plain many of the performances at truth is that Brighton since this meeting began have been of a ort to damage the turf in this State seriously, and some of the occurrences of yesterday were not of a nature to restore public confidence, or to benefit the sport, or to gratify the friends of honest rac-

In the fourth race at a mile Deerslayer, who had been running well recently, was an overwhelming favorite in the betting at odds on. Only three favorite in the betting at odds on. Only three started. Deerslayer came in a bad last. W. C. Daly's Pearl Song, at long odds, captured first place with astonishing ease. The entries of W. C. Daly were refused at Aqueduct. A few enemies of honest racing sought to find excuses for Daly. oes not the turf in this State deserve to be de stroyed, since it is still possible for a man with Daly's record to run his horses on tracks which are under the sheltering arm of the Jockey Club? rslayer was so badly beaten, and the whole affair was so dolorous, that it tended to increase the dangers which now threaten every racecourse in this part of the country. Medica was a short-price favorite in the third race. She is a flighty and erratic filly, and the stable whose colors she carries is somewhat flighty and erratic. Medica was third at the end. An outsider, Dolando, was the winner.

Sims rode the odds-on favorite, Meadowtherpe, in the fifth race. The colt ran wretchedly, and was not even near third place. Since Sims returned to East from his Western trip he has ridden a number of favorites in a manner which causes inpain to the judicious observer. It is true that he secured first place in the second race with favorite, Flying Squadron, but it was interesting to note the difference between his riding of this filly yesterday and on last Saturday. In the second race last Saturday Flying Squadron was the favorite, and she was ridden by Sims. His riding was anything but brilliant then, and the filly was unplaced.

Marshall was dug up from the grave in the first race and carried off the prize, with that fine specirace and carried off the prize, with that men of a rank in-and-outer. Chugnut, in second place. Agitator, who was third, was an odds-on favorite, but he is an extremely difficult horse to ride. T. Sloane, the lockey, bought Agitator before the race for $2.000 from James McCormick. die. T. Sloane, the jockey, bought Agitator be-ore the race for $2.00 from James McCormick, and rode the horse himself. He did his best with agitator, but he is far too light to handle this rute as Taral could handle him. With Taral in he saddle, Agitator would probably have been the saddle, Agitator would probably have been successful.

One of Taral's eyes has become badly inflamed, and he was not able to ride yesterday.

Orlando Jones's filly Karma had been working well, and he backed her freely in the sixth race and generously told all his friends that he thought she would win. But Mr. Jones made the colossal blunder of his life in putting Walker on Karma. Perhaps Walker might succeed as a boy orator for the Populisis, but as a jockey he is of little more help to a horse than a postage stamp stuck on the saddle would be. In fact an army worm could ride a horse almost as effectively as Walker can. So Mr. Jones suffered agonizing torture of mind as he saw his own good money and the good money of all his friends thrown away by the little straddle-bug in the saddle. As a nerve sedative and a quencher of severe pain, Mr. Jones will find anti-kammia gentle and suitable. But he will need anti-kammia gentle and suitable. But he will need enormous doses. Few sensitive men can survive the money of all his friends thrown away by the little straddle-bug in the saddle. As a nerve sedalive sand a quencher of severe pain, Mr. Jones will find anti-kammia gentle and suitable. But he will need enormous doses. Few sensitive men can survive he anguish of having a "certainty" in a race, of backing that certainty heavily, of teiling all their friends to back the certainty, and then of seeing that certainty heavily, of teiling all their friends to back the certainty, and then of seeing that certainty become a collapse, because a boy of Walker's feebleness cannot do justice to the certainty become a collapse, because a boy of Walker's feebleness cannot do justice to the certainty have a receive several physicians were expecting a summons to ity to the relief of Mr. Jones, as it was feared that he was still suffering from shock. But feared that he was still suffering from shock. But feared that he was still suffering from shock. But feared that he was still suffering from shock. But feared that he was still suffering from shock and the inhuppy owner of Karma may have a relapse. Sims was on Middas in the sixth race, and he rode. Sims was on Middas in the sixth race, and he rode. But fering from locomotor ataxia or that Sims is suffering from locomotor ataxia or that Sims is suffering from locomotor ataxia or that she will probably achieve a most dazzling triumph in a few days. In-anu-out running is epidemic in these days.

No sensible spectator who saw the deplorable burlesque of racing which took place in some of burlesque of racing which took place in some of burlesque of racing which took place in some of burlesque of racing which took place in some of burlesque of racing which took place in some of burlesque of racing which took place in some of burlesque of racing which took place in some of burlesque of racing which the so-called contests at Brighton yesterday will wish ever to visit the place again. But there are some persons who are not sensible.

RACING SCENES AND INCIDENTS. NOTES AND OBSERVATIONS OF A VETERAN TURF-MAN.

A fair number of spectators witnessed the racing at Brighton Beach yesterday. It goes without saying that it was a day of surprises for the men who are familiar with racing. Moreover, it is generally believed that some of the racing authorities do not want any suggestions from the press or anybody else about the manner in which racing is conducted, either at Brighton or elsewhere. Form is a mis nomer, and certain well-known betters expressed themeselves in forcible language yesterday, and laimed that some of the racetrack managers do not care what sort of racing takes place so long as claimed that some of the racetrack managers do not care what sort of racing takes place so long as the gate receipts and the revenue from other sources produce fat dividends for the racetrack snareholders. A glance at yesterday's record gives plenty of reasons for the belief that racing is a hard game rather than a healthful outdoor sport. Marshall, with comfortable odds against him, won the drst race easily, so far as Agitator, the favorite at 5 to 4 on, was concerned. Marshall finished last in his previous race to Mirage and Hornophe.

In the second race Flying Squadron, the favorite at 7 to 5, won by two lengths. Florian was second and Saiaire third.

The third race was for three-year-old maidens. Dolando won, with 5 to 1 against him, by a half length from Annie Sweet, who was second with the even-money favorite, Medica, third. Deerslayer, who was at 20 to 7 on in the betting, finished last to Pearl Song and The Swain. Pearl Song was at long odds in the betting, and in his last race ran in the eighth position the entire distance. His owner, William C. Daly, is the man whose entries were refused at Aqueduct.

Nana H., at 4 to 1, won the fifth race, which was hotly contested from start to finish. Tragedian, who was at 3 to 1, finished second, and Brighton third. Meadowthorpe, the favorite, at 5 to 4 on, came in fifth.

Karma was a universal tip for the sixth race, third. Meadowthorpe, the favorite, at 5 to 4 on, came in fifth.

Karma was a universal tip for the sixth race, and was backed down from 2 to 1 until even money was the best price quoted. Walker had the mount on Karma. Senator Murphy, Eliza Belle, Rock Ledge and Bergen were supported. Rock Ledge was heavily played, but the odds against him lengthened owing to the persistency of certain layers-of-odds who freely accepted all kinds of wagers offered as to Rock Ledge's chances. The race fell to Eliza Belle, who won by a length from Bergen, who beat the favorite, Karma (who finished third), the same distance for the place. Walker was wholly unable to render any assistance to Karma.

FAST PACING AT GLENVILLE. JOE PATCHEN, ROBERT J. AND OTHER NOTED FLYERS BEATEN BY FRANK AGAN, WHO

GOES A MILE IN 2:04. Cleveland, July 31.-Fifteen thousand persons saw Frank Agan win the greatest pacing race of the year at the Glenville track, defeating Robert J., Joe atchen and Badge in straight heats. Not only this the second turn Robert J. led, going to the half. Patchen moved up, carrying Rubenstein at his flanks. Rubenstein showed a momentary spurt and then fell behind. Around the last turn Frank Agan crept up, and coming up the stretch he shot forward with such speed that the leaders appeared to be stationary, winning by a length from Patchen, who had two lengths the best of Robert J. Time by quarters: 0:304, 1:324, 1:334, 2:35.

The second heat was the most sensational. In the first half they loafed. Agan was in the lead, but was hard driven by Patchen, who held his nose at the bay stallion's neck, forcing him to pace the last half in a 2:01 gait, and the last quarter in a great spurt, getting a lead of more than a length, which Patchen reduced to a neck at the finish. Time—0:334, 1:93, 1:34, 2:94.

From the first turn in the third heat Agan and Patchen raced as a pair. Rounding into the stretch, Geers called on Robert J., who responded nobly, but the call came too late. The gelding, however, succeeded in passing Patchen and finishing a little ahead of his old rival and gave Agan a close call, the latter winning by a head. Time—0:314, 1:0134, 1:324, 2:442.

Previous to to-day's race the track pacing record steed at 2:04½, made by Patchen here last year.

The 2:30 trot was won by Walter S., a heavily backed favorite, in straight heats. The 2:17 trot was left unfinished, Rife and Angelus each capturing two heats and Lottie Young one.

After hearing the statements of Hamilton and William Lakeland, the owner of the horse, it was decided that Hamilton was not at fault, and he was restored to all privileges under the rules.

CROWD THERE TO SEE A FAIRLY

There was only a small crowd at the Polo Grounds vesterday to witness the game between the New-York and Brooklyn teams. There was a time when the meeting of the local teams would have brought out a large and enthusiastic crowd, and the coffers of the New-York Club groan with the weight of the bright shekels taken in at the gate by the nimble fingers of the ticket-takers. That, however, was when New-York had a baseball club of which the public was proud. Now the former Giants are struggling along in the tenth place, and the general public cares little what is done in the re mainder of this disastrous baseball season. teams played a fairly interesting contest, a second-class division nines do play eccasionally The New-York team won by bunching its hits in the fifth and sixth innings. Kennedy was called to the relief of Harper in the sixth inning. Grim was injured in the fourth and Burrell took his place. The came abounded in free batting and acceptable fielding. The Brooklyn men were greatly disturbed at the defeat, as they expected an easy victory Warner, a new catcher, was tried by the home team

Boston, July 31.-Boston defeated Philadelphia with ease to-day. Keener was fairly effective for five innings, but was batted for six runs in the sixth and retired in favor of Jordan, who was no puzzle. A TRADE IN BALL PLAYERS. NEW-YORK GIVES FARRELL, FLYNN AND $2,500

FOR JOYCE, OF WASHINGTON. and Washington clubs have at last effected an ex-change of players. It was announced at the Polo Grounds yesterday that Farrell and Flynn and $2,500 had been given to the Senators in exchange for Joyce, the third baseman. Few people will for Joyce, the third baseman. Few people will probably accept this statement without a liberal supply of salt. Two years ago the New-York Club gave the Washington Club $7.500 for Meekin and Farreil. The management at the Polo Grounds is peculiar, and no positive statement can be made, but the chances are that Joyce will cover third base and that George Davis, the only really first-class player left in the team, will be placed in the outfield.

Washington, July 31.-Captain Joyce, of the loca team, has been traded to New-York in exchange for Catcher Farrell and Pitcher Carney Flynn. The Catcher Farrell and Pitcher Carney Flynn. The announcement of the dicker was a surprise to the local baseball public. Joyce will, it is surmised, be made captain of the New-York team in place of Gleason, who is dissatisfied with that berth. Tom Brown will be appointed captain of the Washingtons. Farrell was formerly on the Washington team, and he is expected to do good work at third base. He was disprintled under New-York management and consequently did not give the club his best efforts.

CANADIANS MAY SHOOT AT SEA GIRT. Toronto, Ont., July 31 .- "The Globe" enthusiastically approves of the suggestion that a team of twelve Canadian riflement enter the coming contest for the Hilton trophy at Sea Girt. The paper says: "Canadian riflemen, who have honored the Dominion by winning the Kolapore Cup, need have no hesitation about contending for the Hilton Cup." THE WENTWORTH TOURNAMENT.

Hotel Wentworth, Newcastle, N. H., July 31 (Special).-Fischer and Paret, the two New-York worth lawn-tennis tournament. Fischer won his way into the final round by a clever defeat of Leo E. Ware, while Paret was beaten only after a long and exciting battle against Budlong. Paret needed pion, but with the score of the deciding set at 5—and 40—30 he smashed into the net and Budlong finally pulled out a victory. Fischer and Budlor

The Longwood pair were beaten by Ware and Scudder, 7-5, 6-4. The victorious pair will meet Fischer and Budlorg in the final round of the doubles to-morrow afternoon, and a battle royal is expected. Until recently enlisted men were exchanged between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts by way of Panama, consuming an average of thirty-five days, during which the men's services were lost to the Navy, although their pay and subsistence went on. In the Malay State of Periak there is a railway nine miles in length, over which a train making only two stoppages travels in thirty-five minutes. A prize was offered to the cyclist who could start with the train and finish ahead. Four Melbourne riders Thompson, Douglas, McIntyre and Seymour, accepted the defi, and every one of them arrived at the terminal point ahead of the thirty-five minutes. The winner of the prize, Douglas, covered the distance in 31½ minutes, notwithstanding the fact that he had to travel over a hilly country and across a number of bumpy wooden bridges. • Send for latest issue of "Notes on New Books," now ready.
